Insert a pin of some kind and push the emergency release that should open the drawer this will work even with no power to the laptop. To Enable it off, the laptop owner also only needs to press the Fn and F3 buttons together. This button operates the same as the on-off button in general. So when the button is pressed on, the indicator light will Enable on which indicates the WiFi trap is active. On a laptop keyboard, it is usually equipped with a Functional or Fn key. This button specifically has a function when combined with other buttons mainly F1 to F12. Using the Fn If the laptop does not have a special button to Enable on WiFi traps, there are still ways you can do that is by using a key combination on the keyboard.
